CORNER OF BRAND AND WILSON SELLS FOR $65,000

Syndicate of Local Men in Deal; Development Plans Not Yet Determined

The sale of the property occupied by the Jewel City Undertaking Company at the corner of North Brand boulevard and Wilson avenue is announced today, the consideration being $65,000. It brought approximately $300 a front foot, being 102 on Brand and 140 feet deep on Wilson.

W. E. Evans, J. G. Huntley, Albert D. Pearce and J. Herbert Smith, a syndicate of well known local men, made the purchase from F. W. Pigg, who bought the property as a residence from the old Glendale country club. While it is desirable close-in commercial property, there are no plans for improvement at the present time and the Jewel City Undertaking Company will continue with the conduct of the beautiful home funeral parlors.

Considered Fortunate

In speaking of the purchase, Mr. Evans said he believed the buyers were exceedingly fortunate in getting one of the last big corner lots and it shows the confidence of all in the future growth of the business district of Glendale.

Messrs. Huntley and Evans are owners of the three-story block now being completed for the Pendrcy Dry Goods company. Mr. Pearce is Mr. Evans' law partner and Mr. Smith is proprietor of the Glendale Groceteria, the leading institution of its kind on the Pacific coast, it is said.

Local School Officers At State Convention

George U. Moyse, principal of Glendale Union High school, and A. L. Ferguson, principal of the night school, left this noon for Pasadena to attend a convention of high school principals from all over the state of California.

"The Sweet Meat Game," which was presented in the local high school auditorium and later presented before the county institute in Los Angeles, will be staged tonight in the auditorium of Pasadena High school.

Among the speakers at the convention will be Governor William D. Stephens, Will C. Wood, state superintendent of instruction, and Chester Rowell, regent of the University of California.

Boy Scouts on Trips for Easter Vacation

The Easter vacation, which is in progress this week, means a great deal to the Boy Scouts in the Verdugo Hill District, according to H. F. Benner, scout executive.

"Practically every troop is planning either an overnight hike or camping trip up in the mountains," he remarked. "In addition, all are looking forward eagerly to the big doings on the night of April 13 when over 350 scouts and their leaders will be assembled at the Glendale Union High school to witness the presentation of the charter to the Verdugo Hills District Council by representatives of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America."

Real Maple Syrup Is Sent Here; Yum! Yum!

Frank Kearne of 221 North Howard street, and Arthur Kearne of 1010 East Wilson avenue, brothers, have each received a present of two gallons of delicious new maple syrup from a third member of the family whose home is in Ceres, N. Y. Arthur Kearne celebrated the arrival of the package by an old-fashioned "sugaring off," which was a treat to a few friends who had the privilege of sharing the evening. Among them were Mrs. Martha Barnett and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Brockway.

Cause for Emigrating Is Given New Twist

LONDON—"The Pilgrim fathers did not break away from the mother country because of harsh treatment. What really caused the separation was not oppression, but distance, different surroundings and the fact that the most advanced radicals of England had found refuge in America and carried into effect the ideas of government that were repressed in the mother country."

Thus declared Prof. E. Raymond Turner, professor of history at the University of Michigan, in an address to the Royal Colonial Institute in London on "The Relations Between Western Europe and America."

"Though the original English stock had become largely intermixed with Dutch, German and other foreign elements, America remained English in language, institutions and laws," he said.

"Of the 150,000,000 English speaking people in the world, almost 100,000,000 are in America, and of these about 50 per cent were supposed to be directly descended from British stock."

ADELE MOREHOUSE E. WILSON'S BRIDE

Ceremony Occurs at the Home of M. Morehouse on East Lomita Avenue

The home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Morehouse of 1000 East Lomita avenue was the scene of a most delightfully appointed wedding Saturday night, April 8, 1922, when their granddaughter, Miss Adele Morehouse, became the bride of Ethan Wilson of Los Angeles. The bride is well known in this city, having formerly resided and attended school here. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Morehouse of Los Angeles.

The ceremony, which took place amid a wealth of flowery splendor, was conducted in the double ring method by Rev. C. E. Cornell of Pasadena, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, that city. Rev. Cornell has been an intimate friend of both the bride and bridegroom for a number of years, he having formerly been their minister.

Sharply at 8 o'clock the bride marched into the room resting on her father's arm. She wore an exquisitely designed wedding gown of white crepe de chine, with the beautifully embroidered veil looped over her head and held in place by scatterings of ever-fragrant orange blossoms. Her bouquet consisted of bride's roses intermingled with scattering of sweet peas.

Attractive Decorations

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Herbert Langdon of Los Angeles, who is a sister of the groom. Miss Esther Hoke was the maid of honor, while Willard Wilson, brother of the groom, was best man.

The house was most appropriately decorated for the occasion by artistic combinations of pink sweet peas, bridal wreath, freesias and asparagus fern. The huge canopy under which the ceremony took place was made of asparagus fern and the usual wedding bell made of white roses.

Following the ceremony the guests enjoyed a delicious course of refreshments, the large wedding cake being cut by the bride. During this part of the evening Mr. and Mrs. Wilson managed to elude their mischievously inclined friends and sped away to parts unknown. They expect to return from their honeymoon within about ten days, when they will make their home on Lake street, Los Angeles.

Present at Ceremony

Those who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wilson, Miss Harriett Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Langdon, Miss Grace Delight Langdon, Robert Langdon, Maxey Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mason, Mrs. James S. Hoke, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Morehouse, Glen Morehouse, Mr. and Mrs. M. Morehouse, Miss Bernice Morehouse, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Widmark, Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Cornell and Miss Lottie Morehouse.

WILL RETURN FROM NORTH

Mrs. A. S. Hoch, mother of Mrs. C. J. Letts of 109 West Lomita avenue, will return about the middle of the week from San Francisco, where she has been visiting for the past three weeks.

GIVEN PARTY ON 82ND BIRTHDAY

M. H. Kenaga Gets Surprise Saturday at His home on West Oak Street

About noon last Saturday the relatives of M. H. Kenaga gathered at his home at 547 West Oak street in celebration of his 82nd birthday anniversary. That the occasion might be a surprise to her father, his daughter, Dr. Minerva Kenaga, had a neighbor, Mrs. George Gunther, prepare the dinner. Covers were laid for nine. The centerpiece for the dining table was a beautiful basket of California roses. The birthday cake told the tale, for from the top blazed in red figures "82."

Those present included M. H. Kenaga and brother, Daniel Kenaga, Dr. Minerva Kenaga, and also three nieces of M. H. Kenaga, Mrs. George Green and husband of Long Beach; Miss Katherine Kenaga of Pasadena, and Mrs. Grant Clapperton and son Bobby of Kankakee, Ill., and Dr. Paine-Jackman of Glendale.

At the close of the meal Mr. Green read the following message of love from Mr. Kenaga's only surviving sister, who is also 80 years old:

"I hope it's not too late
To remember your birthday at this date.
With a few lines from Sister Sue
To celebrate the 8th of April, 1922.
Am having dear thoughts today
Of a brother far, far away,
Surrounded with friends on the 82nd birthday.
But these years have not all been filled with sunshine bright,
Though you have tried to do right.
But, dear brother, the time will come
When the Father will say 'Well done.'
Enter into the joy, my son.
God bless you, every one."

Although Mr. Kenaga is 82 years "young," he drives about Glendale in an electric runabout, does the family marketing, cares for his gardening and chickens, and fulfills all of his duties as a Christian citizen. His friends and acquaintances wish him joy and health on his journey to the century mark.

Twenty cars have been registered for the Glendale trade excursion which the Chamber of Commerce is promoting for April 19. Other owners of machines who will be able to make the trip and take a couple of others along are requested to register with the chamber or phone Glendale 1262.

Secretaries Rhoades and Sanders will make a tour of the La Canada, Monte Vista and San Fernando Valleys on Wednesday to complete arrangements for the reception of the 200 Glendale boosters.

Mrs. G. C. Slate of 1151 North Columbus avenue entertained with a dinner party at her home yesterday in celebration of the birthday anniversary of her father, H. T. Anderson, who was 72 years old. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Anderson and Vernon Anderson of 247 North Orange street, and Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Slate and family.

BOYS WHO PASSED BIBLE TESTS TO RECEIVE PRIZE

Examinations Are Completed; Papers Now Being Graded; Seek Banquet Guests

The Bible study examinations conducted last week at the First Methodist church for the members of the grammar school Y. M. C. A. boys attracted considerable attention among the members of that organization, over thirty taking the test.

At each meeting of the Y. M. C. A. groups part of the time is spent in Bible study. They also took up the study of the book "Men Who Dare," which deals with her characters in the old testament, and on which the examination was based. The test was in charge of David Black and C. H. Muhleman.

The boys who passed the examination will receive certificates and also prizes, which will be awarded at the "father and son" banquet to be held at the First Methodist church on April 18, according to Rex C. Kelley, local Y. M. C. A. secretary. Names of those who passed the test will be announced as soon as the examination of the papers submitted has been made.

Older Men for Guests

Members of the Y. M. C. A. groups appeared at the various churches yesterday and made appeals for men to act as fathers for the boys whose fathers were not living and also for the names of boys without fathers so that each boy who attends the "father and son" banquet will have an older man as his guest for that night. Those in charge are especially desirous of getting every boy in Glendale, and especially those without fathers, to attend the banquet and the evening's entertainment that is being planned.

The Hi-Y group, which is under the leadership of G. Edwin Murphy, left Saturday for Antelope Valley, where they are camping for a week. They will return Friday. In the morning the Hi-Y group which is under the leadership of Carl Seitter will leave for the Pacific Palisades on a two days' camping trip.

Troop No. 2 of Boy Scouts Gets Flagpole

Troop No. 2 of the Boy Scouts here was delighted last week to receive a twenty-five foot flagpole, made of steel and surmounted by a golden ball. A. A. Barton was the donor. He is one of the members of the local council. Scoutmaster Benjamin Robison last Saturday aided the boys in planting the pole and it will be raised this week and the flag flown for the first time.

Added to this was the gift of a beautiful flag by J. J. Berliner, an Oklahoma oil magnate now residing at Long Beach. While visiting recently at Charles L. Chandler's home on Canada boulevard in Verdugo Woodlands, he saw the troop's clubhouse on the Chandler property and became interested in it. In addition to the flag he has given the boys thirty-six chairs, two canvass hiking buckets and two canteens.

Quite a ceremony will be made of the flag raising, it is reported, and the boys keenly appreciate the equipment given them.

Miss Mildred Meeker Entertains at Luncheon

Miss Mildred Meeker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Meeker of 1320 East Colorado street, was hostess Saturday to a group of high school friends at a very pretty luncheon. The table was centered with yellow daffodils and the Easter motif appeared in the dainty table appointments. Music and informal dancing were features of the afternoon.

The guests were Miss Doris Packer, Miss Mildred Stanford, Miss Margery Yarick, Miss Vivian Thomas, Miss Cleo Redd, Miss Alice Finn, Miss Dorothy Peart, Miss Kathleen Campbell, Miss Virginia Huntley, Miss Evelyn Gregg, Miss Dorothy Carmack, Miss Gladys Peckham. An out of town guest was Miss Catherine Whalstrom of Los Angeles.

'Tramps on Wheels' Visit Glendale and Beg Money for Gas

Auto bummers have made their appearance in Glendale this spring.

They are a type of "hobogeneous" people who believe that all to be done in this world is "ask and ye shall receive."

Two of them traveling through from Imperial Valley to San Luis Obispo Saturday were found begging dollars from business people to buy "gas" to get there.

But the pitiable part of the "auto bumming" is the fact that some of them have families and, instead of working, look to the good people of each communiy for alms.

Already several groups have mulcted benevolent Glendalians and investigations show they are able to work for a living instead of "joyriding" through the fat of the land.

GLENDALE'S PROBLEMS AND ASSETS UNDER DISCUSSION

Many Officials From Other Municipalities Are Here on Suburban Day

MOTORIZED TRANSPORTATION TOPIC OF MASS MEETING

BUS HERE TO STAY SAYS EXPERT AT GATHERING

Says Railroads Are Striving to Poison Minds of People Against Auto Service

"Motorized transportation is here and is here to stay," declared F. L. Platt, secretary and manager of the State Motor Carriers' Association, Saturday night at the mass meeting in the high school auditorium in the closing session of the Los Angeles City Club's observance of Glendale Day.

"The feat of using our sewage waste for our crops—I am here to tell you that there is more money in it than the east has ever dreamed of," asserted W. R. Mitchell of Los Angeles in a brief talk on the scientific possibilities of using purified sewage water for irrigation purposes.

About 125 persons attended this meeting, many of them being visitors from other communities who expressed their pleasure at the reception afforded them. There was no opportunity for an open forum discussion on the local bus situation.

Mayor Spencer Robinson, who presided, stated, however, that the city administration would be glad to hear from any of those present who might have any views on the subject.

Various Types of Busses

Lantern slides, illustrating various types of auto busses, were shown by C. D. Gulick, municipal bus expert. He related briefly the status of the local bus situation.

The address of welcome was delivered by V. M. Hollister, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Two duets were sung by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Girard and Mr. Robinson and Mr. Girard also sang a duet.

Trio of Fire Alarms But Damage Is Small

Three fire alarms over the week-end were reported with practically no material damage done, although quite a spectacular blaze was prevented Saturday afternoon when a Richfield oil truck caught fire on San Fernando road. Only the cab was burned and the cargo of oil was saved by the firemen's quick response. Another machine caught fire on South Glendale avenue Sunday afternoon and a garage at 208 South Orange street was ignited by a bonfire, but only the gable burned before it was extinguished.

Work has been started on the Grand View fire station in the northwest section of the city and Captain and Mrs. Ed Fairfield have moved to 1927 West Glenwood road and Captain and Mrs. John Meyers are residing at 1945 Glenwood, hoping that their duties will keep them near at home.

A. J. Psenner is taking Fireman William Gould's place at Station No. 2 while the latter is recuperating from an operation at the Glendale Research Hospital.

Credit Board Talks About Civic Matters

A merchants' license tax, garbage collection and other civic matters were topics of discussion this noon for the Glendale Merchants Credit Association and it is the organization's purpose to devise ways and means to help the council in providing revenue to meet the present $2,000 monthly deficit. C. Warner Van Valkenburg, who was scheduled to appear last week with his new song, "In California," again was on the program.

Mrs. H. B. Fletcher Is Hostess to Card Club

Mrs. H. B. Fletcher of 368 Salem street was hostess Friday to the members of the Milford Street Card club Those present included Mrs. C. H. Thompson, Mrs. H. A. McPherson, Mrs. R. Vinton, Mrs. W. N. Rathbun, Mrs. H. G. Hosford, Mrs. C. H. Pendleton, Mrs. J. P. Strain, Mrs. H. V. Brummel, Mrs. J. H. Southard and Mrs. H. B. Fletcher. First prize was awarded to Mrs. Strain and consolation prize to Mrs. Hosford.

SCOUTS NO. 3 TO MEET

There will be a meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Central Avenue school of the members of the Boy Scouts Troop No. 3, of which Frank Ayars is leader. At that time final arrangements will be made for the hike to be held Friday and other important business will be taken up.

Turn Back, Oh Time! For Sale: 3 Million Dollars in Property

How would you like to buy all of the property between Broadway and Colorado boulevard and Brand boulevard and Glendale avenue for $15,000?

You could sell one 50-foot lot on Brand for that price today, but that was the amount paid by John A. Merrill, who still is in the real estate business in Los Angeles.

More surprising, too, it was only a generation ago that the deal was made — eighteen or twenty years ago.

Another $15,000 was invested in Glendale Sanitarium building at that time and other property owned by an Ohio man who advertised it as the "deadest place in the world."

And now it is known as "the fastest growing city in America."

"Omigosh!" said several who heard Mr. Merrill relate this mere incident at the City club Saturday afternoon.

The property today would total two or three millions in value.

ATTRACTIVE POINTS OF CITY VISITED

Guests Marvel at Glendale: Linner at Verdugo Woodlands Is Enjoyed

The beauties of Verdugo Woodlands, the panoramic vista of the San Fernando Valley from Kenneth Heights, and a tour of the business and residential sections of Glendale were features of Saturday afternoon's excursion to Glendale by the Los Angeles City club. Three large motor busses and a dozen touring cars made the trip, coming by the way of Glendale boulevard.

At Kenneth Heights in the northwest section of the city, Attorney W. E. Evans, a member of the club, told the 100 and more visitors about the elevation, the homes of the wealthy, the cities in the distance, the twinkling lights at night, and John A. Merrill of Los Angeles related how fortunes had been made in Glendale property.

After the quite complete tour of the residential sections, the party arrived at the Old Adobe in Verdugo Woodlands where Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell of the F. P. Newport Company staff had prepared a Spanish supper for the guests. While they were waiting for the frijoles to frizzle, Lloyd H. Myers, lecturer, told the history of Glendale, from the time the Verdugo family first settled here under a Spanish land grant.

Come Early Live Late

Of course, the rose tree, planted by Tia Logena Verdugo in 1815 was the subject of great marvel, but when Mr. Myers said that this venerable woman still lived in the canyon at the age of 118, some one had the temerity to remark he supposed everyone lived to be 100 here.

"I'll guarantee that if you come early enough," countered Mr. Myers.

During the dinner hour more speeches were made by W. L. Twining, sales manager of the F. N. Newport Company, Mayor Robinson, Councilman Sanborn of Los Angeles, and Dr. Jessie A. Russell, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce civic committee, who with Mr. Gulick, was mainly responsible for the complete arrangements on entertainment.

Many accepted the invitation to remain for the mass meeting at the high school Saturday night, which is reported elsewhere.

Fred A. Wilkins Home Scene of Card Party

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Wilkins of 210 East Garfield avenue entertained with a dance and card party at their home Saturday night in honor of Mrs. Wilkins' brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mitchell and son of San Jose. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell and son, Mr. and Mrs. Whitson and daughter Lucille, and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Nicholas and daughter, Margaret, of Glendale, Mr Rewick, Miss Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Buie, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Dalley, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Synder, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Osterholt, Mr. and Mrs. John Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Popperwell and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Rewick of Los Angeles.

Makes $1000 Gift to Church Building Fund

Rev. C. A. Cole was called to the Ambassador hotel in Los Angeles recently to receive a gift of $1000 toward the building fund of the Central Christian church. The donor was A. R. Teachout of Cleveland, who is spending the winter in southern California and heard of the work of the Christian denomination in Glendale. He is not expected to live more than a few months, it is stated.

SMALLER CITY HAS FULL RIGHTS TO INDEPENDENCE

Can Conduct Affairs Better If Not Swallowed Up by Big Community, Is Claimed

Glendale—its past, present and future; its problems and assets provided topics for the first "Suburban Day" program of the Los Angeles City club on Saturday, starting with a luncheon at noon in the club's cafe in Los Angeles and concluding with a mass meeting in the high school here at night.

More than 100 members, their friends and officials of other municipalities enjoyed the hospitality of "the fastest growing city in America" and got first-hand information on the subjects of sewage and transportation, Wyllys M. Abbot of Venice, chairman of the suburban committee, presided, and he had quite a coterie of notables from the Santa Monica Bay district as his guests, including C. W. Sirch, Ernest Pickersing, Sherwood Kinney, J. C. Barthel, George Hubbard, Ira Jackson, W. H. L. Geldert, Fred Simpson, Edward Davis and others.

Represent Glendale

Councilman Sanborn, C. Gordon Whitnall, secretary of the city planning commission of Los Angeles, were in the crowd, while Glendale was represented by Mayor Spencer Robinson, Councilmen Sam Davis, A. H. Lapham and Dwight W. Stephenson, City Manager Reeves, Traffic Expert C. D. Gulick, Dr. Jessie A. Russell, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Civic committee; E. F. Sanders, assistant secretary of the latter organization; A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News; Attorney W. E. Evans and others.

High School Athletic Club Girls on Hike

A happy group of members of the Girls' Athletic club of the high school left Glendale at 6 o'clock this morning by motor for Sierra Madre, where they will start on a hike to Roberts Camp. Glee Club of Girls Substitutes for Choir

The special music numbers by the Girls' Glee club of the Intermediate school, who substituted for the choir at the Sunday morning service at the Casa Verdugo Methodist church, were very well rendered before an appreciative congregation, the selections sung being well adapted to their voices. A soprano solo, "The Sweet Story of Old," by Wilma Kulp, with the accompaniment hummed by the other members, was a very pleasing feature of the program.

First sopranos were Wilma Kulp, Ruth Cox, Jean Ingram, Helen Orr, Guilia Smith, Lucile Bruner, Mahala Wickert, Katherine Stanley, Madelon Montgomery, Alice Whitaker; second sopranos, Dorothy Burch, Dorothy Steiner, Gladys Jones; altos, Ruth Vovel, Bernice Collins. The club is directed by Miss Gladys Sharpe.

North Hears More of Glendale Than L. A.

James M. Rhoades, secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, who made an official visit to San Francisco last week-end and who will render a perot at tomorrow's meeting of the board of directors, states that Colonel C. A. Simmons, secretary of the San Francisco Chamber, told him that he heard more about Glendale than Los Angeles, it seemed. This sounded pretty good to the local booster.

The trip was made by motorcar with J. G. Ferlin of the Power Implement company and going north they stopped at Modesto on Thursday, reached San Francisco Friday and returned Saturday.

Don't Neglect Kidney Troubles!

Dropsy, Diabetes and Apoplexy Most Dreaded Diseases

Neglect of any derangements of the kidneys is dangerous in the extreme. Kidney trouble is Nature's warning against the approach of Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy and apoplexy—all diseases that are eventually fatal in their effects. Read what Mr. A. Fillinger, R. F. D. No. 2, Wheeler, Ill., says:

"I was a great sufferer from kidney and liver derangements for several years. The pains in the back were almost more than I could endure, and the whole digestive system was upset. Though many medicines were tried, I never obtained permanent relief until I used Dr. A. W. Chase's K-L Pills. It is a pleasure to recommend so excellent a medicine."

You can buy Dr. A. W. Chase's remedies at all drug stores. To be sure of getting the genuine, see that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., are on every box. This trade mark is your protection against substitutes and imitations. —Advertisement. 10

Preview Is Included On Regular Program at Glendale Theatre

Glendale is privileged in witnessing a preview at the Glendale Theatre tonight of "A Spinner in the Sun," a Renco production of another of Myrtle Reed's famous novels. Director Lloyd Ingraham and company will be present. So will lovers of clean pictures for that is the right to fame claimed by the Renco company.

Quite an international affair is "Dawn of the East," starring Alice Brady, which opened yesterday at the Glendale Theatre for a two-day showing.

Never has this popular star been given a more sumptuous vehicle, and never has she made better use of a role, than in this swiftly moving story of plotting and counterplotting in the back-rooms of exotic art shops and Oriental cabarets; of love-making in lotus gardens, of escapes in moonlight and sampans, and of blackmailing villains trailing the hapless heroine half way 'round the world and right into the home of her Long Island fiance.

There are times when this stirring tale of E. Lloyd Sheldon's narrowly skirts the edges of melodrama, but never through one instant's overacting by Miss Brady.

Gorgeous settings of Chinese streets and interiors, and some rarely beautiful garden and night scenes add to the interest of this Realart production, which was directed by E. H. Griffith, with Gilbert Warrenton officiating at the camera.

Other numbers on the well-balanced program include a comedy and news reel.

Gloria Swanson In Gorgeous Costumes on Screen at T. D. & L.

Gloria Swanson, who has been called the best dressed woman on the screen, further justifies this reputation in "Her Husband's Trademark," her third Paramount starring vehicle, showing at the T. D. & L. theatre today.

Miss Swanson's gorgeous array of feminine attire in this instance constitutes a necessary feature to the theme of the story. Her husband, played by Stuart Holmes, is a money-mad business man who adheres to the theory that a show of money attracts money and that a beautifully gowned wife is the best indicator of a husband's prosperity and wealth. On this false hope he overlives his income and in a final desperate effort to recoup, goes so far as to encourage a romance between his wife and old friend in hopes of obtaining a large oil contract. Finally comes the disillusionment for the wife and friend, with rather startling results.

The story is by Clara Beranger, scenarized by Lorna Moon and was filmed under the direction of Sam Wood. Richard Wayne is leading man and others in the cast are Lucien Littlefield, Clarence Burton, Charles Ogle and Edythe Chapman.

Relative of Glendale Resident Gets Honors

Mrs. I. D. Brooks of the Reliable Shoe Store of 120 West Broadway has received word that her cousin, Maj. H. Edmund Bullis, a former assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Syracuse, N. Y., and since that time considerable of a globe trotter, has been chosen by Gen. Leonard A. Wood, governor-general of the Philippine Islands, to be the latter's personal representative on a tour of the countries bordering on the China sea.

Major Bullis is a sort of ambassador of publicity, carrying letters of introduction to the rulers of all these countries, asking that they be represented in the Philippine carnival to be held in Manila in February next.

He will present General Wood's compliments to and invite with necessary picturesqueness the King of Siam, the King of Cambodia, the Sultan of Jahore, federated Malay states, the Raja of Sarawak, the Sultan of Brunei, the Governor of North Borneo, the Governor-General of Indo-China, the Governor-General of Java, and the governor and high commissioners of the federated Malay states.

It is not often that an American has opportunity to be received at the courts of these Oriental rulers, and Major Bullis is highly honored. He will remain in each place long enough to impress upon them the anxiety of Governor-General Wood to foster a more complete understanding, greater friendship and increased commercial intercourse between the countries bordering on the China sea and the Philippines.

Major Bullis has become very well known in business circles in Manila, as he is president of the Philippine Publicity Service, Inc., editor of the American Chamber of Commerce Journal and secretary of the Manila Rotary club. He is also active in Bamboo oasis, the Shrine organization in the islands, the Elks club, the American legion and the Navy and Polo clubs.

Beautiful Home for Movie Scenes Sought

Charles A. Taylor, noted motion picture director, wants the home beautiful in Glendale as the background for the first scenes in "Old Lavender's Faith," now in active rehearsal at the Pearl Keller studio, 109 North Brand boulevard.

So, if you wish to see your home in the "movies," bring a snapshot to The Glendale Evening News office, addressed to Charles A. Taylor, or take it to the Pearl Keller school. There will be a big scene in front of a local church, also a street scene with The Glendale Evening News office as a background.

Tonight at the rehearsals Mr. and Mrs. Walter Norton and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Norton, of Norton & Norton fame, will be present with several members of the movie colony to witness the progress Mr. Taylor is making with his class in motion picture acting. The latter states that those joining the class tonight and Thursday night will have the opportunity to appear in the scenes mentioned above.

The children's class will be photographed in a gypsy dance Saturday upon the lawn of the Glendale home selected from the snapshots, Mr. Taylor states.

C. E. SOCIETY IN PARTY

Thirty members and visitors of the Glendale Presbyterian C. E. Society enjoyed a swimming party and weinie bake Saturday at Brookside Park, Pasadena. The picnickers left Glendale in autos from the Presbyterian church at 4 p. m., for Brookside, where swimming, playing games, and roasting weinies and marshmallows were enjoyed by all. This was followed by a short business session which adjourned from the park at 7:30 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Brown, superintendents of the society, chaperoned the crowd.

LINEBERGER URGES RIVERS, HARBORS BE DEVELOPED

Southland Congressman in Plea for Government Work; Not Senate Candidate

Special to The Evening News.

WASHINGTON, April 10. — Scanning the Congressional Record and perusing the personal correspondence of Representative Walter F. Lineberger, one cannot help but note that he is taking an active part in national affairs and acquitting himself in a manner which should meet with the approbation of the majority of his constituents.

Speaking before the Rivers and Harbors committee, of which he now is a member, the Long Beach congressman said in urging more funds for such work:

"We have spent billions upon billions of dollars for war in the last five years. We have spent until it hurts, and I think it is now high time that as much of the people's money as possible be devoted to the constructive works of peace.

"This is not a partisan matter. It is not a sectional matter. Both of the great parties in their campaign documents or platforms, issued in 1920, declared in favor of the improvement of our inland waterways, to wit, our rivers and harbors.

"Now, the distinguished member from Ohio (Mr. Burton), in whose opinion I have great confidence, states to you that our problems in America are entirely different from those that are presented in Europe. Only recently I made a trip of two months abroad, and I took particular pains to look into river and harbor transportation. I may say I am not altogether unfamiliar with this phase of work, having been educated in civil engineering and having spent ten years in the practice of my profession, several years of which were spent in the development of rivers and harbors. I am convinced that the transportation problems of all great nations today are intricately and intimately involved in the development of their rivers and harbors.

"At this very moment the great Stinnes group in Germany, in combination with four or five German states directly interested, are putting through the German Reichstag a bill to carry out a plan to connect the Rhine and Danube rivers, and thereby further develop the great transportation systems that exist on those two rivers. If a bankrupt nation like Germany, owing billions of dollars of indemnity, can afford to consider such a constructive work as that in such a time as this, I insist that the American people, who have millions of dollars at their disposal where the Germans have thousands, can well afford to increase the appropriation to the maximum of $42,800,000, recommended by the board of army engineers and the rivers and harbors committee of the House, for carrying on this great work during the coming fiscal year."

In a statement just made public, Congressman Lineberger positively declares he is not a candidate for the Senate, nor does he expect to become one "unless the good people of California should deem my entrance into the field necessary to accomplish an end to which so many Californians have consecrated themselves."

Baptist Church Holds Evangelistic Meetings

The First Baptist church was packed to the doors at both services yesterday and a large number in the Sunday school responded to "Decision Day."

"In the olden days there were times of drouth and famine, but God would restore the land and bless it again with bounteous crops," asserted Dr. James Holmes, state evangelist, during the morning sermon. "So in our lives there are times when we neglect our Bibles and our lives are barren; when we fail to come to God in prayer and our souls dry up; when we neglect our church and service for the Master and there is no fruit. But, when we return to God, He is willing to forgive us and restore the soil of our hearts that once more we may bear fruit to His name's honor and glory."

Fifteen responded to the call of "Life's Enlistment" at the young people's meeting at which Dr. Holmes spoke to a large number. Several also came forward at the close of the evening service. During the day between forty and fifty took their stand for the kingdom of Christ.

Evangelistic meetings are to continue every night this week except Saturday. Noon-meetings are also held from 12:15 to 12:45 o'clock every day except Saturday.

FIVE TEAMS CLOSE UP AS BOWLING IS NEAR END

Squads Are Now Separated by Three Games; Possible for Any of Them to Win

STANDING OF THE CLUBS

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Fortunatos	14	10	.683
Grenfells	14	10	.683
Apffels	12	12	.500
Wards	12	12	.500
Gilhuleys	11	13	.458
Clarks	9	15	.375

But three full games separate the first five teams in their standings in the Class A division of the Glendale Elks' scratch bowling league, making it possible for any one of the quintet to win the first prize during the two remaining weeks of play. The prospective title winners, however, will probably be either the Fortunatos or the Grenfells, both of which are now tied for the lead with fourteen contests to their credit and ten on the debit side.

The Grenfells, who have occupied the "runner-up" position in the league standings throughout most of the season, were able to crawl up and share the top rung of the ladder with the Fortunatos on Friday night by virtue of their three straight victories over the wobbling Clarks. The latter team, playing without the services of Ed Clark, captain and anchor man of the squad, is apparently doomed as far as luck is concerned. On top of the above mentioned handicap they were able to roll up two 500 games, losing each of their three contests by the narrowest of margins.

Won By Three Pins

The failure of Captain Fortunato of the Fortunatos in the last frame of the first game was all that allowed the Grenfells to reach first place. The game was won by the Apffels by the scant margin of three pins, it being the only defeat registered during the evening against the Fortunatos.

The third match on Friday night's schedule was that between the Wards and Gilhuleys, the former winning by the score of two games to one. Both captains did their bit in this series, each rolling up a 200 game their names being the only one to appear in the "select circle" in tht entire evening's program. The former totaled 207 in his first attempt while the latter bested that mark by seven pins.

At the close of the evening's schedule it was observed that seven individual games had strangely resulted in the score "177." This was one of the most peculiar coincidences to take place in any evening of the league season, two similar scores having heretofore been more or less of an oddity. The "177ers" included Viohl, McGillis, Urich, Huesman (2), Stone and Fortunato.

The individual high men on each team are as follows:

Gilhuleys, Gilhuley, 14; Wards Ward 207; Clarks, McGillis 184; Grenfells, Grenfell 199; Fortunatos, Fortunato 197; Apffels, Card 192

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.—Advertisement.

SEGUIN, Tex.—One injured calf, muscular, not quadrepedic, one complete set of influenza, one demountable shoulder, two holdouts and a series of examinations at the University of Texas. Two men late in reporting, one manager a bit nonplussed, not to say disconcerted, a somnambulent little Texas town concerning itself not at all, and a large spacious time being had by all.

It may sound a bit involved and just as clear as a bottle of the very best ink, but we will explain all without unseemly delay.

The Chicago White Sox are in training here.

With all of these liabilities, real and fancied, the White Sox have won three ball games to date, from the world's champion giants, lost one and tied one. The answer is eternal hustle and the fact that Kid Gleason is getting laudable pitching from a pair of recruits.

The first of these is Charlie Robertson, up from Minneapolis, who, next to Urban Feher, looks like the best right-hander in the company. The other is John Russell, a left-hander from Sioux City, who received a brief trial last year. Russell is well known as a spring pitcher.

Earl Sheely, first baseman, and the illustrious Eddie Collins, were slow in reporting. Eddie Mulligan, third baseman, is another holdout; Red Ostergard, his temporary successor, has the temperamental shoulder previously referred to. Ernie Johnson, shortstop, has taken his set of influenza to a local hospital cot, and "Bib" Falk, one of the best young outfielders in the business, is wrestling with examinations in college.

The outlook to date has not been a certain cure for mental dyspepsia, yet Gleason and his Sox are taking it all with a laugh and are showing commendable dash in their playing.

Ostergard is really a most promising third baseman. He will round out the regular infield with Sheely, Collins and Johnson, in the event that Mulligan elects to grace the outer darkness. Otherwise, it will be a battle between the pair of them. Hal Bubser, a recruit first baseman, has shown rather well, but will go back where he came from just the same.

The Sox' greatest weakness is found in the box, for the catching is sound, with the wonderful Schalk ready to appear in the majority of games and "Yam" Yaryan available for relief duty. And even a confirmed misanthropist would be pleased with the outfield. One could go further and do much worse than Falk, Amos Strunk and Harry Hooper with Johnny Mostil as first substitute.

What Charlie Paddock of Los Angeles is to the entire world as a sprinter, Glenn Hartranft of Stanford is going to be in the shot put event. There is this difference between the two. Paddock by a series of remarkable performances covering two years worked himself into the premier position of the greatest sprinter the world has ever known, whereas Hartranft will accomplish the same object in one season. In this respect the Stanford shot putter is somewhat like Weismuller, the world famed swimmer of the Illinois A. C. Both have sprung from being nonentities to the most talked of stars practically overnight.

Hartranft has in practice already beaten Ralph Rose's world shot put record of fifty-one feet, he having done fifty-two feet two inches, while in actual competition he has in two meets done forty-nine feet six inches and fifty feet, three-eighths inches. He is a sophomore at Stanford University, stands six feet one inch in height, and weighs 197 pounds. He is not only a shot putter, but is for his size and weight one of the most remarkable all round athletes that have ever represented the Stanford University. He will go east this summer with the Stanford team for the I. C. A. A. A. A. meet and like other Coast athletes unknown in the east will be ready to prove his ability against any shot putter the eastern colleges have to offer.

His all round ability is best shown by figures of last year and this year. As a freshman he showed all round ability, but it was not until this year that his real worth was established. Every event he won last year he has improved on this year. In one meet alone last season he won five events and his records of that meet and his competitive performances so far this season follow:

Event.	1921	1922
100 yards—	10 2-5;	10 1-5.
220 yards—	22 4-5;	22 2-5.
16 lb. shot—	44 ft.;	50 ft. 3-8 in.
Broad jump—	19 ft. 8 in.;	21 ft. -0.
Javelin—	142 ft. 1 in.;	179 ft. 8 in.
Discus—	129 ft. 4 in.;	144 ft. 1-2. in.

With Hartranft of Stanford and Houser of the Los Angeles A. C., the Pacific Coast is now able to advance two logical successors of the great Ralph Rose. Houser will never beat Rose's mark, but he will always be a good second to the now famous Stanford shot putter. True, Houser defeated the also famous Pat MacDonald in the National Championships last year, but the school boy will never attain the best records of Pat. At that, Houser this year will attain world fame by breaking Rose's world interscholastic record of forty-five feet, six and a quarter inches.

The Stanford man has beaten Rose's record as already mentioned, and he will officially break Rose's fifty-one feet anyway. Stanford has meets every Saturday from now on with a few midweek meets as well. The day is not far off when the world will be told of a new world shot put record. For some years past Stanford has advanced remarkable shot putters, Caughey and Bihlman for instance, both known in national and international competition, and both remarkable in that factor of shot putting known as "form." Hartranft likewise displays remarkable form with ease of delivery that is beautiful.

The World Over

The editorial policy on which the Yale, Princeton and Harvard universities undergraduate daily publications have come to a common agreement regarding athletics will, in the main, meet with the approval of followers of collegiate sport, but there seems to be one angle on which there may not be unanimous agreement. Reference is made to the abolishment of the so-called intersectional contests.

That there has been, perhaps, too much stress placed on athletics, and their importance magnified, is not unlikely. When 100,000 persons attend a football game with another 100,000 unable to get tickets, the game naturally takes on some dimensions. Whether an editorial policy will diminish these dimensions as long as the demand for seats keeps up is something the future must determine. We were the first to advocate the idea of having prospective athletes sign a statement to the effect that they would in no way professionalize themselves. The man who would not be willing to sign such an agreement is not the kind of player a college wants in any of its squads.

The attempt to do away with the intersectional game, however, seems to be a backward step. Not only intersectional sports, but international events have had a great vogue since the war and sports followers have about come to the conclusion that they have been beneficial in their results. Distant communities are brought into closer relationship which might not be secured through any other means.

As a case in point: The University of California varsity crew went east last summer and while there spent a week as the guests of the oarsmen of Princeton university prior to a race rowed by the two crews. The Californians returned enthusiastic about the hospitality accorded them, a great admiration for the men they had met and the university itself. There can be no question that our people would get to know each other better if more opportunity existed for the change of intercourse.

Other lines of sport can well emulate the examples of sportsmanship and courtesy which obtain in golfing circles. A recent example of this is afforded by news that the California Golf club has extended the use of their course to members of the Olympic club of San Francisco, waiving all greens charges. This was done because the Olympians were barred from play on their own links during the progress of the northern California amateur championship play, which was to be played on their Lakeside course.

Another example of the support golf is getting comes from Hollister, Calif., where Charles N. Hawkins, a wealthy cattleman, has rented, to the newly-formed Hollister golf club a tract of sixty acres of land on which to lay out a nine-hole course for an annual rental of one dollar for ten years. At the expiration of ten years the club is given the option of buying the property at a price which already has been set approximating $9,000.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients in a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.—Advertisement.

LIVE YOUR CREED! URGES PASTOR IN SUNDAY SERMON

Beliefs Not Made to Sing and to Recite or Haggle Over, Says Rev. Calderwood

"A creed is not made to sing and to recite; it is made to live," declared Rev. C. M. Calderwood yesterday morning at the Congregational church.

"Life is made richer by belief in God, Jesus and the Bible, prayer and life everlasting. Life is not made richer by the barrenness of belief, but by the abundance. Our creeds are not what we recite, but what we live.

"Jesus laid great emphasis upon the truth. He invited and commanded men to use their brains. It makes a great difference what a man believes. It makes a difference whether it is true or false. It is folly for a man to build the foundation of his life upon a foundation which will be swept away.

"This is not an age when we haggle over creeds. It is an age when many have an antipathy over creeds. If the Christian means that he does not believe that the church today should spend its time haggling over long drawn-out statements of non-essentials then there are doubtless many who are disposed to agree with him.

Not All In One Mould

"We do not care to fit everyone into the same mould and we do not care to limit ourselves by attempting to put on paper everything that we believe. Jesus did not do this and neither did the earliest teachers of the church.

"We all have creeds—unless we have committed mental suicide. The fool who said in his heart, 'There is no God' had a creed and a poor one. The man who says that he does not believe in creeds, has already stated his creed. The agnostic, who insists that we cannot know anything about God, the soul or immortality, is a man with a creed and he will sit up nights to defend it.

"The only persons who do not have creeds of some kind, are those who do not think. The moment we begin to think, that moment we begin to have convictions."

Epidemic of Sin Is Here, Pastor Asserts

"Sin is the epidemic of the age," asserted Rev. C. E. Cornell yesterday morning at St. Mark's Episcopal church.

"There is planted in human nature a profound respect for sincerity and consistency of character with contempt for the opposite. Let the man of the world have occasion to ask not who shall be the companion of his lighter hours, but who shall manage his affairs, who shall vindicate his character or to whom he shall entrust the care of his children. You will find that, after all, he puts his trust in the loyal consistent character, the man who not only has the courage of his convictions but dares to follow them without turning aside.

"That man is king who is master of his appetites and passions whether he is seated on a throne, clad in purple and fine linen or toiling amid dirty bricks or in carpenter shops clad in the humble garb of the laborer.

"Let us then take up the cross of the Nazarene Carpenter and be loyal to Him, though kings of the earth threaten and furnaces of fire blaze with seven times their wonted head and lions' dens open to test our faith. We want a faith that is more faithful; a loyalty that is more loyal."

MARRIAGE OUGHT TO STICK FOR LIFE, TEACHER SAYS

Head of Bible Class Asserts Great Care Should Be Used In Selecting Partners

"Wedlock is a padlock," asserted Rev. Keith L. Brooks yesterday morning in the council chamber of the city hall to the Men's Bible class of the Presbyterian church.

"Marriage is more than a legal contract. It is an oath taken in the sight of God, making the parties directly responsible to God. Let those, who are contemplating running in double harness, look well to the other horse before they are hitched up, for those who believe the Word of God have made a contract that is binding for life. Note Christ's words: 'What God hath joined together let no man put asunder.'

"Ninety per cent of the active Christians were saved when they were children. The children's church of today will be the abiding church of tomorrow. Give the devil his choice between a man and a boy and he will take the boy any time. God help our parents today to get out of the way and let the children come to Christ.

Permanent Relationship

"Man and woman were created for permanent relationship to each other. They were not left to unite and separate as taey might wish. They were one by creation before they were two. When they became one again by the marriage covenant, that oneness could not but be closer and indissoluble.

'The separation of Eve from the side of Adam may be an exceptional instance within the human race of what biologists have seen in lower orders. A cleft takes place in some part of the body and two perfect individuals are formed. When the rationalists ridicule the rib story, they are not ridiculing the Bible, but a stupid mistranslation. The word, 'rib,' which has been translated, means 'flank or side.' In other words, the woman was taken from the flank of man, not the rib."

Georgia Woodthorpe Is Given Surprise 'Party'

Georgia Woodthorpe, the great emotional actress and star of the John M. Stahl production, "The Song of Life," was agreeably surprised on Saturday night at the T. D. & L. theatre, as was the rest of the audience, except for the friends of the popular photoplayer who arranged the little surprise.

At the conclusion of the feature in which this local star portrayed the part of the mother, the house was silenced while Manager Ralph Allan spoke as follows:

"You have just seen the feature picture, 'The Song of Life' in which Georgia Woodthorpe, the famous screen mother, played the leading role. She is known to you here as Mrs. William Wallace, a resident of Glendale, and is in this theatre now, accompanied by numerous friends and admirers who have come to pay her homage."

Mr. Allan then presented her with a beautiful basket of flowers and asked her to stand so everyone in Glendale might know her. As the golden hued spotlight encircled her picturesque personality, salvos of applause audibly demonstrated the appreciation of the great work done by this artist. Indeed, those moments of applause were a great tribute to Georgia Woodthorpe of the screen.

Caissons were first employed in England in 1851.

GOOD OF CHURCH IS TOLD IN TALK BY REV. EDMONDS

Only Spiritual Asset Next to Home, Says Pastor; Know Where You Stand, Urged

"What good is the church?" was the question answered yesterday morning at the Presbyterian church.

"Next to the home, the church is the only spiritual asset that we have in the community," declared Rev. W. E. Edmonds. "There is only one church—all who are truly in Christ. Some day Christ is coming. Then the church will be united in Him.

"If we desire to know the value and importance of the church, we will not find it in the Old Testament for it was not yet revealed; neither in the gospels nor yet fully in the Acts. But it is in the revelation given to Paul. He wrote the church epistles.

"Church in its true meaning is 'called out.' Some of the best days of the church were when they had as yet no buildings. There are fine church buildings that are only shrines of unbelief. Paul distinguishes between the true and the false. The church is custodian of the truth.

Know Where You Stand

"Some churches say they have no creed. But you have got to have something by which you can speak to the world. The organization is but a frame for the gospel. It doesn't matter about denomination. We may clasp hands with every man that believes the fundamentals but with no man who denies them.

"If ever there were a time when the men of God needed to stand foursquare, this is the time. The church has perils; it is the target of the devil: his business is to destroy. Always in the night the enemy is sowing false seed in the ploughed and planted field. Do you know where you stand and why?"

Class for Housewives Now Being Conducted

Working in conjunction with the Los Angeles district of the California Federation of Women's clubs, of which Glendale is a part, and the Parent-Teacher associations and other organizations, a food values demonstration class for housewives was instituted Wednesday, April 5, by the Los Angeles City Health Commissioner, Dr. L. M. Powers, and are directed by Mrs. S. E. Page, chairman of the Federation's home economic department. These classes, which are free to all women, are held at Normal Hill Center, Los Angeles, every Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

E. H. Miller, chemist, spoke last Wednesday on "Standard of Foods," and a very interesting discussion as to labels, adulterations, comparative prices and advertising followed. Other programs being planned include talks by the following: John F. Nelson, chief meat inspector, "Meats;" Dr. William Veit, "Milk;" John F. Nelson, chief bakery inspector, "Bakery Goods;" F. W. Mefford, chief fruit and vegetable inspector, "Fruits;" Arthur Potts, chief sanitary inspector, "Restaurants;" John F. Nelson, chief fish and poultry inspector, "Fish and Poultry;" F. W. Mefford, chief fruit and vegetable inspector, "Vegetables."

ELECTRICAL RESISTANCE

When water flows through a pipe there is a certain amount of friction between the water and the wall of the pipe. This friction offers a certain resisting effect to the passage of the water. That is, it tends to cause the water to flow less rapidly. The smaller the pipe the greater is this resisting effect, until if the pipe is of very small diameter the water passes through it with considerable difficulty, and the rate of flow is materially decreased. If it is desired to have a greater strength of current either the pipe must be made of larger diameter or the pressure which is forcing the water to flow must be increased.

Likewise in the case of the electric current, the circuit through which the electricity flows presents a resisting effect to the flow of the current. The greater this resisting effect the less the current strength. If it is desired to have a greater current strength it is necessary to either decrease the resistance or increase the electrical pressure.

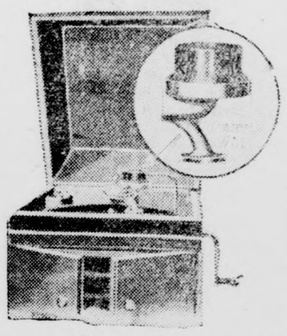

The size of the conductor (wire) through which the current flows compares with the internal diameter of the water pipe. The larger the diameter the less the resistance. Also, the longer the wire or circuit the greater the resistance to the current. Another consideration is the quality of the wire as a conductor of electricity. All materials offer some resistance to the passage of electric current, but, in general, metals offer less resistance than other substances. Silver is the best conducting material, and then come copper, gold, aluminum, zinc, platinum, iron, lead and German silver. The last material has almost fourteen times the resistance of silver, the diameter and length of each material being the same. Copper is almost as good a conductor (has only a little more resistance), diameter for diameter and length for length, as silver. And copper being more economical to use, it is the more practical. Silver is only used in very special cases.

A SIMPLE PHONOGRAPH ATTACHMENT

In receiving the radio concerts at home or in the club it is quite often desirable to have the music loud enough to be heard by a number of people without using ear pieces. If a phonograph is handy, nothing is simpler than to connect the radio receiver or amplifier cabinet with the tone arm of the phonograph. This can be done with a suitable attachment without in any way hurting the phonograph or disturbing the receiving set. As a matter of fact, the tone chamber of a good phonograph is quite favorable to the reproduction of the radio music, and many people prefer it to a metallic horn.

One of the simplest and least expensive attachments is cast in one piece of aluminum. Aluminum is a non-magnetic alloy and takes a very high polish. The first quality prevents any disturbance in the electrical action, and the latter is of value, as far as appearance is concerned.

One phone of any standard make of telephone head set may be rested, face downward, upon a rubber ring set in the cup-shaped phone holder in such a manner that the hole in the receiver cap is directly over the hole in the cup. To connect the attachment it is only necessary to remove the speaker box from the tone arm and replace it with the attachment. The leg of the attachment is then allowed to rest upon the turntable of the phonograph. A piece of felt is fastened to the under side of the leg. The proper height essential to the production of full sound volume is thereby secured with ease. The sound passes from the telephone receiver to the tone arm of the phonograph, without being in any way distorted, and a "loud speaker" is thereby secured at a surprisingly low expense.

Increase of Pay to Saleswomen Is Urged

BOSTON. — A minimum weekly wage of $14 for experienced saleswomen in retail stores with special rates at $10 and $12, respectively, for minors and apprentices, was recommended by a wage board. This represents an increase of 64.7 per cent over the existing minimum of $8.50 which has been in effect since 1916. The retail store wage board is one of several boards reconvened by the state minimum wage commission for the purpose of revising rates to meet changes in the cost of living. The latest census figures show approximately 22,000 saleswomen in Massachusetts.

Home Is Being Dredged for Biggest Steamship

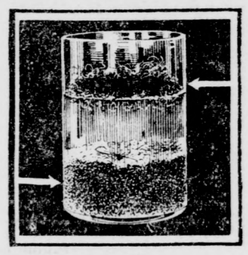

NEWPORT NEWS, Va.—A home is being created here for the Leviathan, monarch of America's ocean liners. Dredging at the docks of the Newport News Shipbuilding company, where the Leviathan will be recuttfitted, is progressing rapidly, and very soon the channel will be deepened enough to permit the liner to come to anchor beside the company's piers.

The giant liner will be brought here by Captain Peake, of the Virginia Pilots' association, who knows the waters off the Virginia coast as well as a garden-plot in the rear of his home.

Although the beaver's chief use for its flat, trowel-shaped tail is for swimming, it has another purpose. When beaten on the water it becomes an alarm signal.

The Royal is easy to use—weighs only 11 pounds. Made to last a lifetime. Practically trouble-proof

The picture shows the two kinds of dirt in your rugs.

A little floats—that is surface litter. Much more sinks—that is embedded dirt, unsanitary, germ-breeding, the worst kind of dirt. It is deep in your rugs.

The Royal Electric Cleaner is specially designed to get this embedded dirt with powerful suction scientifically applied.

It is easy to get the surface litter. But the Royal gets ALL the dirt.

Let our Royal Man clean a rug for you free, and show you how the Royal's powerful suction gets the unsanitary embedded dirt. Just call us up.

Cocaine Smugglers in France Become Adroit

PARIS. — Despite the strictest lookout exercised by the police force, inland and on the frontiers, trafficking in cocaine goes on as ever in France. Now that it is not safe to smuggle the drug in aeroplanes, other means had to be found, and some of those employed are most ingenious and have so far escaped police notice. Mixing cocaine with ordinary face powder is one form. Other means used are hollow heels in shoes and boots, hollow canes and umbrella handles. Cheap plaster dolls are also used.

These articles, filled with cocaine and often opium, are sent out of the country or received into France, and only those initiated know about their secrets. A password is, however, necessary to buy them.

Men who strain at gnats of criticism swallow camels of flattery.

More of Character And Less Culture Urged for Pupils

HARRY B. CHAMBERS

Member of the New York City board of education who gives as his opinion that elements of education are being neglected in schools.

By MARGERY REX.
Written for International News Service.

NEW YORK.—More character and less kultur! That is our great educational necessity today. Honesty, justice and decency contribute more to a proper social attitude than intensive culture and modern efficiency.

These are the opinions of John J. Figert, United States Commissioner of Education, who, in an address before the National Education Association, Department of Superintendence, in Chicago, said:

"If we cannot teach these virtues along with modern thought, then we had better dismantle our splendidly-equipped institutions and return to the old log schoolhouse.

"In the words of a famous Evangelist, 'I would rather have my boy in heaven learning his A B C's than in hell reading Latin and Greek.

"The man who discovered that surgical instruments should be sharp made an important discovery, but much more important was the discovery that they should be sterilized. Better to have a dull knife that is clean than a sharp one that is foul."

Character Put First.

Must we return to the three R's that were taught in our school houses?

Do our public school graduates write and speak good English, or do they disgrace their teachers and their educational system?

Harry B. Chambers, member of the Board of Education of New York City, has some interesting views which he has contributed to the discussion. He said today:

"Without character no success is possible.

"Financial success is often just chance, but with character properly founded one can be truly successful and happy in life.

"This is the only way to solve crime, drug and socialistic evils.

"I feel that we do not sufficiently stress the fundamental studies of English, spelling and lower mathematics.

"Sewing, manual training and swimming are good in their place, but fundamentals must not be lost sight of."

Must Teach Citizenship

Citizenship must be added to the three R's, in the opinion of both Mr. Chambers and John J. Figert, who said recently:

"We have not yet learned to teach citizenship to our boys and girls. We must teach respect for the flag; we must teach the principles of our government and American history in a far more effective way.

"Americans are intensely patriotic, but through ignorance they render less respect to their flag and their country than many other peoples.

"As to New York City, few young people are able properly to express themselves today. This is forgotten by students in the mass of specialized activities of which I approve, nevertheless.

"There is no reason why the broken English of our graduates cannot be perfected so as to compare favorably with that of the graduates of any school or college. It is not what it should be now."

Secretary for Mellon Is Declared 'Sphinx'

WASHINGTON—Knows all, sees all, says nothing.

That's what they say about John Kieley, private secretary to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who has been the right-hand man for many treasury chiefs.

Kieley is a veritable sprinx. He's a live wire, but lets no one know it.

It would take a battering-ram to get by him into the busy precincts of Secretary Mellon's office, if the appointment seeker had no good reason for taking up the time of that official.

Mr. Kieley is noted as a "kid glove" artist. They may want to interview Secretary Mellon, but if they don't the astute private secretary sends them away smiling and satisfied.

To say "No" at the proper time is better than great eloquence.

DISLOCATES JAW BY YAWN

LARAMIE, Wyo.—Will Rickard, a rancher, indulged in such a wide yawn upon awakening from a sound sleep that he dislocated both of his jaws, necessitating a surgical operation before he was able to talk again.

BUS HERE TO STAY SAYS EXPERT AT MASS MEETING

City club, extended an invitation to residents of Glendale to attend the next observance of Suburban Day, which will be held at Venice.

"We are giving the people of California and the people of Southern California transportation that they never dared dream of seven or eight years ago," remarked Mr. Platt during the speech of the evening. "We are here because we heeded an age-old cry for better transportation facilities."

System Grows Fast

Mr. Platt called attention to the fact that a few years ago the only transportation in the state had been from north to south and that bus lines were now traversing the state from east to west and providing transportation in various districts many miles from a railroad.

Denouncing spreading of propaganda derogatory to the motor bus business, Mr. Platt asserted that its enemies, the railroads, were "trying to poison the minds of the people against the most splendid service that has ever been given to the people of this or any other state."

The development of transportation during the past 50 years from the pony express to the Ford was sketched hastily by Mr. Platt, who reminded his audience that the railroads were objecting to the auto busses because the railroads had been pioneers. He also commented upon the fight waged by the steam railroads against the electric lines.

Paying Many Taxes

"The railroads claim that we are commercializing the highways and paying nothing for the privilege," said Mr. Platt. "The railroads say that they are paying a tax of 5¼ per cent to the state of California. We would be only too glad to pay taxes to the state on the same ratio as the railroads. We are paying taxes to the cities through which we run; we are paying taxes in the counties in which we operate; we are paying taxes to the state of California and to the federal government.

"We are paying four different and distinct forms of taxes. Some of the motor bus lines here in California are paying taxes amounting to 34 per cent on their assessed valuation.

"You cannot and must not try to block the wheels of progress."

"Beauty is as beauty does," quoted the Wise Guy. "Yes, for instance, the derrick isn't handsome, but it has an uplifting influence," added the Simple Mug.

Other Cities Doing Things
Artists to Be Appreciated

HOW does Glendale strike the stranger?

Coming into this city with the caravan of "suburbanites" Saturday the writer saw what they saw and heard what they said and in the news columns chronicles the events of the trip.

But the psychology—that is something different.

There were city owners, city planners, city officials and city folk of all sorts from bill collectors to millionaires.

The entrance to "the fastest growing city in America" by way of Glendale boulevard is not so unpleasant and, as it is built up, there is every reason to believe the present paving is only half wide enough through the hills.

After entering the city there is immediately noticeable that "booming building spirit" which you read so much about, but the numerous construction jobs lack strength seen by the tourist coming from out of Los Angeles with its magnificent piles under way.

In other words, the one story business blocks should go two stories; the two stories buildings, three stories; and, above all, vacant property should be improved at least with a garden.

And, if parked automobiles show life, Glendale has more than almost any other community. The hundreds of machines parked along Brand boulevard and Broadway provide an impressive sight and gave definite dimensions to the business district.

It struck me, however, that the present parking plan is all wrong. In the first place, the angle should be reversed and all cars back into their places so they may be driven out and eliminate the danger of wrecking oncoming machines. Then, again, limitations should be placed on the hours of parking for the benefit of the largest number.

To revert to the impressions of the visitor, one could not help but note the serious need for construction on such corners as southeast Brand and Harvard, southwest Brand and Wilson, southeast Louise and Broadway, northeast Broadway and Glendale—and a whole lot more.

In the meantime, one questions, "Aint nature grand?"

Steps should be taken to remove undesirable and unsightly buildings from principal thoroughfares. There is a pile of brick and a little worn out house on the corner of Kenwood and Broadway; an old packing house on East Broadway near Verdugo Road; and buildings on the west side of Glendale avenue between Wilson avenue and Lexington Drive that would be worth razing.

And, for a final critical glance at this city, the improvement of streets, especially South Brand boulevard, cannot come too quickly. Glendale is too good a place in which to live to permit such black eyes to exist. Colorado street is another street traversed by the City club members Saturday which might well have been missed, but, as Mayor Spencer Robinson promised them:

"We are going to show you some of the poorest streets, and some of the best in southern California."

Somebody suggests a comment on Chief James W. Everington's decision to blue pencil Los Angeles police reports. If quoted correctly, Glendale's fighting citizen who is cleaning up the metropolis, is reported as saying:

"The newspapers and public will receive from me only such statistics I desire to have published." Then he blamed the police reporters for much publicity on crime which is unmerited by the city.

Personal acquaintance with the executives of four Los Angeles newspapers leads me to believe they would be fair minded enough to consider co-operating in removing the black marks of crime summaries, were the chief to make a friendly call at their offices in company with the reporters who really are not to blame.

The truth of the matter is, as stated in this column before, all news, films and national politics are controlled in the east and eastern editors, producers, bankers and others in power are prone to let Los Angeles have its place in the sun.

It is this derogatory influence which causes Chicago editors to call for untruthful earthquake and crime stories from Los Angeles and when the local reporters fail to show enthusiasm in the task they send in writers from elsewhere.

Of interest to Glendale is that which other cities are doing. Eagle Rock is capitalizing its foothills to the north and tourists soon will see the name of that place emblazoned on the mountainside.

Van Nuys tomorrow holds its regular monthly Bargain Day with the Venice-Santa Monica bands providing programs both afternoon and evening.

Tujunga is harping for more factories. Let the good people of that community first get the Union Pacific to extend its Glendale branch line through to San Fernando or San Francisco and give ingress and egress to the Monte Vista Valley.

It was a notable list of professional people who were listed in last Saturday's edition of The Glendale Evening News, as being residents of this city. Actors, musicians, artists—all should be appreciated. They are the "spice" of the earth and their acquaintance should be cultivated.

REUNITED THROUGH AD

NEW YORK—"It pays to advertise." Mrs. Raymond Day, of Atlantic City, after searching ten years for her mother, from whom she was separated when a child, inserted an advertisement in a New York newspaper. Two days later she received a letter from her mother, Mrs. Mannie Muir Fisher, who resides in Philadelphia. They have been reunited.

SMALLER CITY HAS FULL RIGHTS TO INDEPENDENCE

Can Conduct Affairs Better If Not Swallowed Up by Big Community, Is Claimed

first event of the day, Prof. Melville Dozier of the Los Angeles school board being selected by Chairman Abbot for the occasion.

"It is gratifying that this committee has been organized," he said, "for I think of a metropolitan district as a great family—a mother and her many daughters, most of whom have married and gone off and set up housekeeping.

Right to Independence

"These towns have the right to be of an independent character, and like the children who marry should set up housekeeping in a home of their own. It stands to reason that these towns can conduct and direct their affairs, in a great majority of cases, better than though they were a part of one great city."

Pointing to policing, morals and education as matters better handled by smaller communities, he continued, "There are certain responsibilities placed upon them, the inspiration is within them and it is a grave question whether it is wise to force these suburban towns into a union with the city, as Los Angeles has done with its aqueduct water.

"If we would have water to provide their needs if they annexed, it would require no more water to supply them if they were not a part of the city, and have as great a return financially."

In concluding, the professor declared Los Angeles "should look with sympathy and decided affection on the aspirations of the suburban cities. In the last analysis a metropolitan section is bound together by ties which cannot be broken."

Discusses Community Upbuilding

Chairman Abbot then introduced the world-famous author on community upbuilding, Prof. Carol Aronovici, who heads the city planning department of the University of California, and he very caustically commented on the fact that seemingly the only planning which had been done in Los Angeles vicinity had been done to keep several surveyors or engineers alive and he wondered if it were worth while.

"I feel we have not emphasized our critical faculties in the building of a city," he said, "but I am very much pleased that this regional planning conference has been organized. No city can grow unless its back country grows and the greater problem Los Angeles has is not merely planning for its suburban districts, but planning for a whole system of highways, water supply, transportation, cheaper power and harbor facilities.

"And unless we look upon the development of Los Angeles as a mere incident to the development of southern California, we will have missed the mark. Of course, we should develop the possibilities of each community (he exemplified his remarks) and we will have something in southern California no other state or nation has ever seen."

"Los Angeles county contains one-seventieth of all of the wealth of the United States, according to the census figures," Dr. George P. Clements, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Agriculture committee, told his hearers in a speech on Forest Fire Prevention. He referred to the green Verdugo Hills as the beauty spot unequaled and pleaded for reforestation of those 27,000 acres burned over in the last few years. Chairman Abbot backed him in the plan and announced that the next Suburban Day at Santa Monica would be "Firemen's Day" and the topic would be given further consideration then.

Invited to Glendale

Mayor Spencer Robinson was introduced and told what a fine daughter of Los Angeles Glendale had grown to be and officially extended the invitation to those present to come out on the excursion.

C. D. Gulick, traffic expert, showed pictures of the latest in motor bus transportation, including the eight-wheeled Fogeol Brothers' bus and other models used to transport the visitors to this city. He told of the Goodyear Rubber company building a city with only motorbusses to serve its transportation needs. He also outlined the snags encountered by Glendale in its efforts to get a permit to operate into Los Angeles.

The meeting then adjourned for the trip to Glendale which is described elsewhere in this issue.

Present Flowers Now, Is Plea of Ministers

"Marching With Christ" was the subject of the sermon yesterday morning at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church.

"The human race is a good deal better coached on piling flowers high on the casket of a departed brother than it is in handing him a few well-merited bouquets of cheer and encouragement while he lives and really needs them," asserted Rev. Harley G. Preston. "It isn't hard to get pallbearers after a man is dead, but it is harder to get men to do a few turns of practical kindness.

"The very cross on which Jesus Christ died, at that time a sign of shame and reproach, is now a symbol of sacrifice, redemption and glory. And the Christ, so little appreciated then, now lives in the hearts of the millions on earth.

"Let us this Palm Sunday all join the great procession of the centuries and enter the City of Faith in triumph with Him."

Like Any Other Store We Give Service

There isn't any kind of store that can succeed if it fails in courtesy, truthfulness or service to the customer.

In that we're like the butcher, the baker and all the rest, who have to apply common sense principles of business over and over again every day.

We're glad to be able to tell you that your battery is in A-1 shape, even if it doesn't happen to be a Willard. But here at Battery Headquarters we don't hesitate about breaking the news if it isn't in condition—or to recommend repairs or the purchase of a new battery if that's the economical thing for you to do.
